

The UN Security Council Agreement and the New World

December 21st, 2024

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

We try to agree with the UN Security Council, which is the agreement to make a new world.

Unification and unified governance may be proposed to the council to avoid conflict and ensure agreement with the new world.

As we can find, any circumstances we have with a world are under new cooperation with the universe of its residents.

These are the agreements for the new future under the world's latest design.

The agreement reached by the permanent members of the Security Council can be communicated to all nations, and together with it, a new way of managing the world can be realized.

This calls on the US, Britain, and France to reach an agreement with China and Russia to achieve global unity and consensus on a shared world.

We can end these conflicts and achieve reconciliation in a new world.

These will disclose the judgments of the Space Adults to the permanent Security Council and, in dialogue with them, propose the realization of a new world.

These will be expanded to include agreements among all nations, and the cooperation of these new nations will create a new world.

Politics must always lead the world, and we may propose new visions. These proposals would end the history of war and suggest the possibility of a new future agreement.

Recreation must be any promise of the new world and the future. These are conversations with representatives of all nations.