

The World Conference and its decision

February 21st, 2024

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

The world has its crisis, and we have an opportunity to decide the world. These are the means of the world conference. Any nation must have the right to seek the future.

We have an idea of the unification of the world under a unified world government. We have a promise of the future: all new steps into the universe with all new cooperation.

Who could give an all solution to the world matters? We have all tragedy in Ukraine and the Gaza Strip. We need rules and agreement to all the realities of the world.

We could share a new world vision under its new design. That is an idea for the future.

The conference may ask for new consensus and agreement that is what we find ourselves in the future with a new world.

It has the most considerable presence in the West. That is any reality the world follows. But we need a future that all nations must accept.

We could agree on the world if we have a conscience equal to any nationality. We need a future that must be from ourselves.

Do we have a hope? This is proper question to the world. We have a history with all wars; we find pain and suffering as we find the same in Ukraine and the Gaza Strip.

All emotional struggle is the basis of our world today. Wealth is only admired by any reality that is called a trend of life.

True leaders must give the right direction to the future. That is the duty of any politician.

We need to find a way. But we have to ask who gave us those. We need a future. We need who gives us the future.