The world's arms race has exceeded tolerance, and the New World Peace Accord proposes holding a disarmament conference.

These are proposals for a new world consensus based on our shared judgment of humanity, our shared judgment of all war.

Furthermore, cooperation in the new reality of space and its participation in the world proposes cooperation in the new reality of world self-defense.

We must consider what we could find in a world without wars; decisions may make it possible.

This global cooperation is the basis on which we can shape a new reality, a reality that we all have a hand in creating.

And any conflict under the military but sharing the same world. And we have all new steps to the universe under any cooperation and sharing of itself.

We may see that all history is a history of wars on the earth. But as we face the future, we have new decisions and the reality of new creations with all the latest technologies.

Peace must be an idea we may find from all history. But how could we make them into reality?

We have all the progress of academics, and we need a new philosophy against conflict.

These are also any basis for the recreation of the world. They permit us to make a new paradise.

These ideas may reach all ideals from history to the future. As we always insist, politics only has a decision for them.
