

The collapse of the economic system and the new world

Kuroda International

Takeshi Kuroda

The collapse of stocks can be predicted to shift to default and a new monetary system. These shift to the creation of the world in the New World Order.

These force all companies to participate in the new reality. It should be noted that large overseas companies such as GAFAM and Tesla have an agreement on these.

The transition to these new social systems will always be based on the creation of a new world in the Jewish people and WASP.

To deal with these issues, we propose the development of industrial technology on an equal footing with the closure of markets in the coalition of Asian countries.

The shift to new energy will also lead to a social shift in new cost efficiency and productivity by politics.

These peculiarities are that the advertising tower of United Nations and the justice in media control is self-sufficient in the unification of the world.

The military-industrial complex presents the practical use of new weapons to the final war. For this, an equivalent technological base must be urgently established in the cooperation between politics and industry.

These must be the unification of Asia presenting its self-idea to the world and confronting the New World Order on an equal footing.

It also demands that the construction of equivalent society and industry, the cooperation and development of region must be realized by the end of this week in the agreement of Asian countries.