

The contradiction between protecting domestic industries and free trade

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

All these are the right idea we have to find a world. Semiconductors and electric vehicles are the primary industry we see in the future. There is all Protection of domestic industry and market monopoly in free trade in the future.

As we find, all these give a world new hierarchy of economy. Free trade system protects their priority in the future.

So we are proposing new world systems in all fairness. The same rule that we are trying to share with the world.

Semiconductor economic security in the liberal camp is a complete cartel, and the free trade system perpetuates and amplifies it.

All this means we need a fair rule of the world. We can not accept their presence, and this may not be wrong.

We are asking for fairness in the world under new world systems. Any world agreement under the total volunteer may not be forced under any powers.

All these are the right idea for a new world rule. Any world presence is struggling with each other and asking for any conflicts.

We are trying to dream of a new world, but all powers that ask for all conflict may not give us even a solution.

Any trend of the world forward to the future, and we find all failure in the world.