

The duty of politics called to serve livelihood to all peoples

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

If politics make s an agreement that comes to take whole responsibility livelihood of all people, people could ask for purpose and life.

As we see all reality of people as its life, what can we find in them? And all roots of the West, what do they have in their life?

As we are trying to pay all new efforts for the people, we are standing new responsibility and any agreement of the world. That is all new what we can do for the world.

We are facing all new technology and systems. All these have all new potential for new life and society. Lowering the national flag is to make a new choice called for the people.

We could imagine a new world. We are standing right in front of the new future. Any steps to the future and universe may be considered out of all our imaginations.

All these give us the idea that new technology could seek new technological civilizations.

All these could be with a necessity of new cooperation of the world. All these could be tailed new possibilities for the future.

What can we find in the future? Limitations could be a total excuse but a challenge and new possibilities.

What can we find right in front of us all? I give what I know. Brave and coward may find all differences between themselves.

Act may ask itself in all differences as plans. We need a new future in that we equally share all understandings as we had proposed from our office to you. That is a world of myself to you all.