Tomorrow never knows. Then we find all possibilities that we can work for.

How do we calculate the history? And what is a decision for the future?

How did people in all of history create the world? As trying to be wise, we find the correct decision could seek a globe.

We find any truth of the world and political environment in all realities. These are any bases we could ask for our steps in the future.

Is there a way to reach hope and the future? These are the right question we find a world and ask for our decision.

And the way is, with all courage, we step into the world.

Any war was full of decisions in the past. How do we find any progress today?

Gathering any consequences of the world, what do we find in the realities?

The world is under a power game. That is what it was, and it is.

We need to forward all our militaries to the world.

If we ask for a full-scale war, how does the world reflect against it?

Fairness could be any agreement of the world that we insist on from our office. And we need a future that is all necessities we have.

We need a decision of ours, and then we find a future.
