

The future of education as a nation

December 10th, 2023

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

No child should be expected to become a tool of the state. By being given oneself and allowing one's future, education must teach one to possess one's purpose. This is the creation of a proper future for the nation.

We should not be forced to have ourselves. These are the reality of the Liberal camp. And all these bases make it possible in their society and life.

The proper upbringing of children is the only way to form an appropriate nation. The creation of the future depends on this.

All these are righteous learning with Western Camp. And that is what we have to do.

They realize all their dreams as we see a new reality in the USA.

America's founding ideals were realized through their efforts. There is nothing wrong with having our ideals.

A correct self always gives a valid world. This is the right attitude of any politics.

We do have a choice for the future that must be all from politics.

How may you find a righteous world? That is based on all children having a virtuous education.