

The meltdown of the People's Republic of China

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

Right political action only permits the future. It is all from the moral.

All these circumstances are from the pecuniary. If they ask for new social systems, it must all from new moralism.

Moral is all appearance of own humanity.

Politicians must ask for all responsibility for any reality of the nation. That gives all decisions to the politician.

All debt in all fields of business actions may not ask for a solution. But if it comes from the correct political activities, we may find hope in the future. That means the reconstruction of a decent society and nation could seek hope for the future.

Giving a just society is always the responsibility of politicians.

The pecuniary economy must be reformed with the proper ethics. This is the political responsibility.

New technology and system could ask for new social systems. That causes us to build a contemporary society under the standard of Society 5.0.

The economy is a war. That is a fitting description of the reality of the world.

We may find no hope in all reality of the world. But we have permission to ask for a step forward.

If all actions of self could give a future, what is your activity in the world?

If a politician is a king, he has a decision for the nation and the future.