

The new world agreement

October 2nd, 2025

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

A new agreement may be the world's future. Under all these points of view, we may propose a new dialogue.

These are some ideas on how we can put ourselves in an international conference. A new idea and system may govern the world in the future.

To reach any result in a new world, we have all argued about various visions of the world in the future. These are the conversations with all the progress of humanity.

All conflicts may be solved through new dialogues. We may share the same future under all its dialogues.

If we can reach the same ideas, it could be the world itself. These are sharing all our consciousness to ask for its responsibility for the world itself.

Then we may redesign the world using all new technology and systems. And it's a new world, maybe based on new world systems, which may be considered under all our progress in academics.

We all have a choice, and that may be the world itself. And these are the results of any progress of the humanities.

And these are the conversations under any ideas and progress of the humanities. And these are only caused by our choices.

We are not permitted to be enslaved. So all these dialogues are given under our independence, and these are how we can declare ourselves to the world.

Hope is the only direction we have followed from the past to the future.