

The reality of war and the choice of war

January 11th, 2025

KURODA International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

These are the realities we may face against the liberal camp. They are well-considered in terms of vision and plans.

There are no choices to face all the world's reality, and any nation only follows all these realities.

These are the reality we share today, and others only follow any information from CNN. And the only permission and possibility is to make victory against all these realities.

Above all, we are given our own choices. We may cause any realities, but the only permission is to achieve victory with all our efforts.

The only remaining is any decision from the universe.

These are proper calculations for any reality we have today. Then, we can listen to any argument of international societies.

If we are gifted with heroes, we must be saved. This is the reason we seek to watch all Hollywood movies.

And these are the only reality all politics can work with.

Then we can ask how you can accept all we propose and describe any ideas from our office to the world.

Reality is always the only permission we may seek for our futures.

This is the last, which we can argue. A real politician is the only possibility of finding hope and gaining any future.