

The world as it faces all changes

October 24th, 2024

Kuroda International Consulting LLC

Takeshi Kuroda

Any Crisis is all reality we have with the world since the world has its plan.

Then we try to create the world anew; these are remarks we have proposed all ideas to the world.

To find the truth and face any reality, we need our vision of the world, which only permits us to step into the future.

All new technology has been used to recreate any reality of society and life. These are the evolutionary changes from the past to the future. We need to know that new technological civilization is all reality in today's world.

These are the ideas that will recreate the reality of the nation, including the environment, politics, and administration.

New investment in rebuilding all infrastructure requires new standards of expense. These are the creations of new futures.

Under national security, independence is only permission to make any actions under independent decisions, which means if we rely on the other, we must have our own choices.

These are the proper understandings for managing all politics and any detailed economic and military plans.

Diplomacy is a way to expand our future into reality. As described above, we need our world vision, which only permits us to work with a world.

All these are the changes and recreation of all new political actions and consensus. But we have a complete necessity of them to put ourselves into all reality of the world.