Any consensus is a promise of the world that we can ask for any future of the world. That is all political reality we may try to seek in the future.

We are trying to create an opportunity for the world. That must be all our efforts from our office to the world.

How could we design any consensus? Let me try to describe it below.

The world under the conscience

Unification could be the new world under equal opportunity for all peoples.

All peoples may share any steps into the universe, and politics must lead them for the people.

All new possibilities under any progress of academics and technology should not be occupied, and there are all new creations of new civilizations under the full cooperation of many nations.

All children may not lose their dreams, but they must have their promise for their future,

All people may not belong, but they must ask for independence in the future.

Fairness must be all agreement of the world to any reality we have on the earth today.

More than all idealists may dream, but we need truth. Hope is only a way from the past to the future.
