All its fundamental conditions of livelihood and the same opportunity for all children to be educated under free education up to university.

Under the new consensus of international society, we must agree to provide equal living conditions to all peoples of all world regions.

Politics may ask itself with all these new consensuses, trying not to put ourselves into all conflicts of realities but to agree and share the same world and futures.

We can find all poverty in developing countries. Still, if politics leads to making a new world out of all the conflict we have with the world today, there are all differences in reality, and we find a unification of all realities.

This is the right attitude of any politics since all conflict asks for all tragedy only with them.

As we, Kuroda International Consulting LLC, had proposed, the unification of the whole of Asia may be a full agreement between regions to be unified and seek their futures.

If the same is failed in the future, it is only a laziness of all politics. And we insist politics has a duty to any reality of the world.

All these are the proper consensus to recreate the world, but we have all the competition principles, each with its own admiring.

Zero emission and Circular Economy should be a new agreement of all politics, which requires all industries to make it their duty.

And we have to know who can realize them all; I have an answer: it is all politics. So if we are gifted real politicians, we may find a future with all our hopes that must be forgotten in history.
