

The world responsibility

Kuroda International

Takeshi Kuroda

The world exists with the responsibility that is all necessity of the world. Western camp takes all its responsibility that they take advantage of the world.

Sharing a world comes with sharing all these responsibilities. That new participation in the world is sharing the world under all realities.

There we find new reality and relationships. There are possible to seek a new reality with the participation of other nations.

There is all advantage and priority of the western camp that due to cause it with their responsibility. Be wise that they are not always rejected with their sociality and morals.

This gives an idea that we may try to participate with ourselves under new cooperation.

This is not ownership but sharing. These new realities could create new ideas that we are equally asking ourselves to the world.

On the other hand, there are revolutions by people against the world. That is how they had spent history under a tyrant. They are seeking people's ages. Free camp permit as North wind and the sun. That reality is gathering all talent from the world and creating their world.

This point of view is that all could ask all reality to make its action and decision.

We may not follow them but ask on our bases.

Suppose the ideal from the western camp is asking all to help others. That means asking to take equal responsibilities.
