

The world under a republic of system

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

By gathering all representatives of the world, a new world system could be built under its republic. As we propose, the first representative is from the president of America.

There is all contact with the universe, and we are rebuilding a new world system. Establishing a new world of decision and management system of discussion and consensus proposes a new world based on agreement at the head of state. We offer for ourselves the abolition of war and a world without suffering.

They present recommendations to inhumane nations as judgments of sharing, not exclusion.

These are styles of unification of the world that we are sharing the world with new corporations.

We have all tails that all peoples never know, but we are governed by. Then we ask to gather all representatives of any nation and ask for the world's decision.

These will be full participation in space with the declaration of the President of the United States, and in response to these new partnerships, the world will move to a new self-running system.

They agreed to develop all social infrastructures and standardize their lives, and to these unified world management systems, in the participation of bureaucrats in the world, to build a new world management system.

These are the things that, in the abolition of the military and the transition to the Space Force, the expenditure can be spent on constructing new social infrastructure and livelihoods.

All these are the proposal from our office to all kings of the world.
