

The world under the nightmare

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

To see all truth, we find a world. As we can raise ideals or dreams, we must seek their permission.

What prevents the self from the future? Only the truth is a reality we can find in the world. And anything that we prefer, we only see a way into existence.

If all from the media is not the truth, the people follow. The fact makes itself contained in any reality.

To disclose all information that we are permitted only decision in the world. Under all these circumstances, we have justice.

We have all nightmares in all realities. But we need to seek a new world.

If the world faces any information of the world, how should the decision be made? But we need truth, even asking for any steps in the future.

The world with justice may stand against all criminal matters.

All these give us all divided of any realities. And asking for any contact with the universe, what future could we find?

We have a choice as we are facing all realities. What can we find in the world today?

A new relationship with space, proposing a future of equality and sharing, must stand firm against the United States and the United Nations.

Equally, we participate in the world, and we can find hope in the world. All these are based on fairness. That is a reality we could agree on and share with the world.