

The world with a new choice

December 19th, 2023

Kuroda International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

We are right in front of the future. And we are trying to propose a new world.

A world without pain and suffering is any ideal we have sought in the past, and we have a choice in the future.

Any technology and progress of any academics offer us a new future. And we have a choice.

As we can imagine, we have a future with all the use of new technologies. All these realities ask for the foundation of their basis. These are the new social system and national foundations.

In a new world with new rules, we could insist and propose them to the world. Peace may be a consensus against any realities we have with the world.

We need determination to make a whole new world, and this is based upon a new consensus of international societies.

We had a challenge. The world must be needed in the future. Hope is only a direction we all have.

What could we see if we made the unification of the world? We are trying to hold a hand and asking for all new creations of any realities.

All effort must make a world itself as we all see all like the UN staff who lost their lives in the Gaza Strip.

These are any bases to ask for all responsibility for the world and the future. And it comes to be the right attitude in all politics.

Now we have a decision, and we can work for that.