

The world with the conflict and the world with a peace

KURODA International

Takeshi Kuroda

With all decisions by humanity is a justice we are standing with a world today. There is all conflict against humanity that western camp standing his realities.

A peace needs himself without conflict—based on discussion and agreement that may seek peace as a new world.

With western camp and against it, that has a reality today. These conflicts are all reality that what we have.

Conflict asks wars as we have today then there is a governed by justice. That justice is a law for all control of reality.

There is a choice that one justice covers the whole world and asking all acceptance of reality by humanity.

Due to the world have own decision. The future may not be determined.

There is a word that is Love and peace. Standing with all reality that world has a truth.
