

Towards the Reality of Economic Warfare

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

What is a decision in all reality as titled? Capital and technology. This decides the result of economic warfare.

But we must know there is all economic warfare, as all considerations in the CIA seek its purpose.

For the truth, who takes the world today? That is who makes victory with economic warfare.

This reaches an idea that we need to make our economic group. These require the formation of an independent self-group that eliminates any dependence.

We know that new technological civilization is a truth. That means we need our industry in all fields of themselves.

Free trade alliances and free economic systems have a hierarchy in its globalization, as they say, economic security.

In these areas, it is required to establish equality with international financial capital, develop industries, and establish an economic zone with its money system.

These technologies can be provided to the private sector for military and space development technologies, and industrial development can be realized along with the redevelopment of social infrastructure.

They have their own capital and industrial establishment in all industries, and for the first time, they can participate in the free trade system. Unless you get it, the free trade system provides the only structure of exploitation.

With the above, it only exists with economic security that we have to know. It only permits our steps into the world of its reality.