

Unification of the world and the world decision

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

Under the one world with the world government, we are trying to share the new world. We can find all conflict and division in any reality, but we are making the last challenge.

The convergence of the world is a transition from the past to the future and the realization of new cooperation in the choice of a new world.

If we could ask for a complete agreement and decision by all nations, what can we find in the world?

The world government must gather all human sources from any region and race. What can we find in a new world?

We have new age called the age of Aquarius. We are willing to forward to the universe. There is all further cooperation with all residents of the universe.

We also have new technology and energy sources that permit us to seek a new life and society.

The future is waiting for us all, forcing all politics to make a new decision.

These are the new idea for new globalization. And we offer a new vision to all politics.

A decision of politics gives this a new world. Could we rely on all new leaders from all political fields? As social movement could shift its vision and we may reach a future.

All people, by its purpose, could step new world by sharing any reality and opportunity.

Fairness must be a rule and rules as we move forward to the future.

If we may dream of a future, from a political field and international society who could declare the new world and hereafter.