Create the future

A vision of unification of Asia

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

With a new social system on its base, we are trying to seek a new reality as we may wonder about all new possibilities.

We have all new technologies and systems that make all possible in all further creation of any realities. All those are based unification of the whole of Asia.

We are with Asian roots that cause us to build new dreams for all people and permit them into the future.

You may find that we are not trying to be a belongs even against any realities. Independence is all conditions we may stand equal to the world. And we need at least the same condition as they are.

All these are the creation of the new technological civilization. That means we do not need a past but a future.

Basic income and a new social system, a new economic system could base all new realities.

We are asking for the highest education system and environment for new futures. They guarantee that all people will finish their university education with no payment.

All space development and technology have a use for society. That means we increase all financial sending and gathering all human sources.

All new consensus of politics requires the highest morals and visions for the future. That means they have a future for the regions.

We may dream and raise ideas for the future. We must promise all of them to be realized.

The dream may not be an illusion, but action gives them a reality.
