

When the world splits in two

This must be the last moment of history and the world. As we find the truth, the world is under control, called the New World Order.

This gives a total separation from the world two—one with the New world order and the other standing against them.

We could guess it must be Armageddon that Illuminati stood themselves with evil.

That forces us to know that the world does not have a choice but to face any realities in the future.

There is a detailed plan in their millennium. That is called a new world, and we have to know who has a world.

And with fortunate or unfortunate, there is all participation from space with all aliens.

These are all explanations for the coming future, and you must know all truth of the world. Then we could ask for our decisions.

As we send all proposal from our office to the world. We equally face to coming future. We have to ask what is a reality we could find within.

These are the only permission to put our steps within since the dream may not be accepted but to put into all realities.

A politician is a king. They can make all their decisions.

Then we are facing the final countdown. We do not even have an escape.

As we insist, reality gives us only permitted to participate in the world. Truth is only a law that we can work for.
