These are all the requirements the nation needs to take its steps into the future. These are only permitted under political decisions.

Abundance is only given with the progress of any industry and the possession of capital. These are all requirements of economic policies.

Winner's logic is correct since these are the only possibilities we are not enslaved in the world.

All these could form a righteous consensus among all politics, and it may shape the future itself.

Finance and economy must be possessed under domestic capital, and it is the only possibility to ask for one's own independence.

Under all these visions, we may ask our own diplomacy. And these are only permitted under the independence of the self.

And from all these perspectives, we can reconstruct the nation as it shifts to a new future. We need to gather all new talent, and they are giving us new dreams.

And we can redesign all reality with all the progress of technology and academics. We have to know academics have their potential equally to their progress, regardless of any realities.

These are the proper basis of all politics since they may realize all new futures.

We can see that all these are only possible under the decision of the self. And a plan may promise all new futures.

We need our actions to make all new abundance and righteous reality of the nations.
