

World Conference on Disarmament and its proposals

February 8th, 2024

KURODA International Consulting

Takeshi Kuroda

These international conferences propose major global disarmament and a shared decision on war. This is a proposal for an agreement to abolish war in the world.

All these are the discussion of the new world framework. We are trying to insist on a new world.

We could insist on a new world unification under the agreement of any representatives of all nations.

These are the sharing of the same ideas and opinions against any realities of the world that we have today,

As I said, we have a choice in the future. Any consensus we could share with all nations and representatives is an idea we are sharing in the future.

We do not need any pain, suffering, and sorrow. That is all the reason we are trying to share a new agreement,

Instead, we find more than any dreams. That is all our new steps into the universe.

These are the new world we could propose to the world. We can make all detailed designs of the world using any human resources gathered from the world.

Facing any reality as any history, we could share the same opinion against them. That means we do not need to ask for any conflict but peace itself.

And we find a new relationship with the universe. There is no doubt we have a new future. Under all the progress of technology, we may expect ten years later. That is proof we are promised the future.