The idea for the new world

May I ask a question? Do the world and the future need disappointment or hope?

This gives an answer that provides us with a step into the world.

Disney was hope, and it is. We have to seek a dream in where?

We have had a dark night in the past, but what is a decision in the future?

Where can we find hope in the past or the future?

Let me ask you for a dream. Is there permission you are required? That gives you an answer you are only a slave.

Freedom is the only remission for a dream. That causes us to seek independence day.
