Power games must make their governance of the world, and we find unification and a future governed by the military and industry.

The Conscience of the West must struggle with themselves in reality as they do have their dream and ideals.

The monster of power has always existed. History must seek its end. Then we have a future.

It is called reality, all the truth we find in the world. How could we cause against them? If there is justice, we may see all dreams in the future.

If there are heroes, we may find the future.

A reality called the New World Order must ask for great resets to create their world. All these are the realities we must face in the future.

And we have to know what they have in their hands. That is the only permission we can work for.

We need our reality to face and stand against all these realities. That is the only way we may find a way to the future.

We can't expect any miracles, but we must work for the reality as much as possible.

These are the answers we need in the future. And its bases are all our reality to make the step into the reality as the future.

To have courage that permits one to step into the world's reality. Above the universe, they have their choice. That is a dice we can bet our future.
